

How do I know if I have the latest valid version of a CEP?

Answer:

A public list of CEPs is available on the EDQM Certification Database. You can search this database to find CEPs using the CEP number if you know it, or using other criteria such as substance name, etc. Instructions on how to search are provided on the search pages of the database. The database contains information on the latest valid version of the certificate, if one exists. Only one version of a CEP is valid at any time. For CEPs that are no longer valid, you can see the date that the CEP ceased to be valid and the reason (e.g. expired, withdrawn or suspended).

In case of doubt, you can contact the EDQM about a particular CEP by submitting a question via the EDQM HelpDesk. For information on how to use the EDQM HelpDesk, please see the HelpDesk User Manual.
